Speaker E: You sound like you really have it figured out!

I didn't understand half of what you were ~~expressing~~ in the real estate finance bit but you're obviously very knowledgeable in your intended field, keep up the good work!

I really liked your use of a timeline visual!

For someone who wasn't excited to have to present you really did a good job!

Comments for speaker C

You went through your presentation kind of quickly, but it seemed like less of a "nervous" thing and more of an "excited to present" thing.
Good presentation!

Comments for speaker D

Sounds like you have some good options for possible internships, I recommend joining a student organization that relates to what you might like to do. That's the one thing (as a senior) that I think would have enhanced my resume.

Comments for speaker A

She was a little quiet but it didn't really take anything away from the presentation.

Comments for speaker B

He had lots of pictures which was nice & he seemed super passionate.

Wade Comments:

His career path sounds really interesting and different than everyone else in the class.

Comments for speaker C

Kindall's presentation was really cool and I like the fact that even though she doesn't necessarily want an environmental career, she still wants to be environmentally conscious.

Comments for speaker D

He wasn't super organized unlike the people who had presentations other than that it was good

Comments for speaker B

Your visual aids contributed a lot to your presentation!

Speaker E

Your speech was really interesting, and really cool goals and career!

Comments for speaker C

Lots of info and clear speaking!
Just not a ton of visual aids.

Comments for speaker D

Very interesting, I wish there was visual aids though, nice job speaking!

Comments for speaker B

Max did a great job! He had really cool experiences + really cool stories with that! He looked nervous at first but he did great, Very good presenter!

Comments for speaker C

Kendal is an incredible speaker! She knows exactly who she is and I can just tell by the way she presents herself that she will go so far in her career! I think she has worked so hard already, so she will go far!

Comments for speaker D

I wish he had a presentation to look at, but other than that he did good!

Comments for speaker A

I thought the presentation was a good length and had all the necessary information to understand the future career goals.

Comments for speaker B

I thought this presentation was very interesting and engaging, and I liked how it seemed casual but he still had a framework for it. I also thought the timeline at the end of the presentation was a really nice addition.

Comments for speaker C

I really liked this presentation, and how it was short and sweet, still hitting all of the points for the rubric. It was also cool to hear about the intersection of business and an environmental career.

Comments for speaker D

I think that this presentation was formatted nicely, the only thing that could have helped would have been some visuals or a framework to see but I thought it was still thorough and a good presentation. He did good being flexible with answering questions.

very informative with the information he gave.

fast speaker, good level of eye contact,
lots of hand movements + movement, interesting major + minor, a bit informal sometimes,

Comments for speaker C

no slides, has note cards, I agree w/wanting more time in the first than at a rest; strong voice, more focus at notes than audience, it's ok to be a freshman, like the use of they-a-hike
a bit on the verge of rambling, notes could've been more focused to avoid pauses.

Comments for speaker D

very active background, good background info, admirable goals, goals reflect on his values,
different approach to environmental corrected career, very impressive that he bought a horse, frequent ^{short} pauses in speech, speech was a bit long, could've benefited from condensed notes.
